

The diagram illustrates the layout of a page with three distinct regions defined by different line styles. The outermost region is bounded by a solid black line. Inside this is a region bounded by a dashed black line. The innermost region is bounded by a dotted black line. Three labels with arrows point to these boundaries: 'BLEED' points to the solid line, 'TRIM EDGE' points to the dashed line, and 'LIVE AREA' points to the dotted line.

BLEED

TRIM EDGE

LIVE AREA